COLLECTION

2021

BRAND OVERVIEW

TH Clothes was born in 2006 with the creation of its logo and the first products, the Delta sweatshirt. The brand appears on the market in order to address the need to provide certified quality products at a fair price. From 2010 to 2015, the brand has grown exponentially in the Portuguese market and has designed 16 new products. 2015 was also the year of internationalization of the brand that already has sales to 12 countries in Europe. 2016 was a big year for TH Clothes. The brand presented 37 new products, seeking to satisfy their customers' needs at all levels. Because it needed to consolidate and expand, TH Clothes bet in 2017 on strengthening its permanent stock, doubling it, with approximately 6 million articles ready to ship in 24 hours for the national market and in 2 to 5 days for the European market, with sales to 27 countries. It presented 2 new articles relevant to market niches that considered to be essential.

The brand also continued its focus on digital marketing tools, integrated new solutions that feature usability and relevance to the business of our customers. In 2018, TH Clothes took a stance of solidity and confidence. It reinforced its permanent stock, intensified its range of colours in a sustained way and introduced 5 new articles that it considered essential in the promotional markets. In this same year, become a member of the Fair Wear Foundation, a certification confirming its collaboration with the manufacturers for a constant improvement in working conditions.

In 2019, the brand sought to revolutionize its range of colours introducing 10 new colours in the main articles of its most important ranges, with special highlight to the 6 pastel colours. It also presented 7 new articles endowed with premium design in order to respond effectively to the demands of the markets and also to maintain its modern and cosmopolitan image.

In the year of 2020, TH Clothes created its own range of workwear with 6 new items plus a unique sweatshirt, in order to reinforce its position to respond to different market demands, maintaining the singular touch of design, elegance and usability. During the same year, the world pandemic of COVID-19 dictated the transformation of the society as never seen. The new reality created new needs and, the brand responded with the creation of the ATLÂNTIDA and ATLÂNTIDA KIDS, a customizable mask with CITEVE seal of approval for COVID-19 social protection. Thinking about an even more sustainable future, the brand decided to remove in 2021, the plastic used in packaging of the best-seller items, in more than 90%. This is the first step of an ambitious strategy regarding waste reduction, minimization of environmental impact and awareness of those who collaborate with TH Clothes.

IMAGINED
IN PORTUGAL

PORTUGUESE DNA

TH Clothes has been building a path full of successes and its recognition in the European markets is already a reality. Like our ancestors, we are committed to conquering the world, leveraged by our perseverance, resilience and conviction that what we are building is something that fully reflects the Portuguese DNA, once a people full of determination and unshakeable beliefs, likewise the “Descobrimentos” era. TH Clothes is growing to be one of the references in promotional markets and it was precisely these values that cemented its range of articles and the global set of tools that we made available to our customers.

The growth in both domestic and international markets reflects this and reveals that the focus on quality, elegance, detail and differentiation has been and will continue to be right.

IMAGINED & DESIGNED IN PORTUGAL

The Portuguese DNA is well recognized in the world of textiles. Its success story dates back to the sixteenth century with construction of the sails used by Portuguese ships. Since that time, the quality of construction and the design of Portuguese brands is appreciated all over the world. Today, the Portuguese textiles mean flexibility, speed, consolidated knowledge and innovation. Based on these assumptions, TH Clothes continues the strong focus on product quality and extending its ranges towards a future marked by differentiation and added value at various levels. In 2020, the brand again showed clear signs that the bet on items of exemplary elegance and uniqueness is to maintain, introducing a workwear collection and a new sweatshirt. During the same year created ATLÂNTIDA and ATLÂNTIDA KIDS, a certified Covid-19 social mask, thus responding to the market needs.

Norm ISO 9001:2015

Organizações Biscana, owner of TH Clothes is ISO 9001 certified.

This certification ensure our commitment to a continuous improvement of our organization performance. This is the result of the continuous work development to work better and the proof that what we are doing is right.

In 2018, TH Clothes became a member of the FAIR WEAR Foundation. This commitment means respecting its code of labour practices based on 8 internationally recognized standards: free choice of work, non-discrimination in employment, fighting child labour, freedom of association and collective bargaining, fair wages, reasonable working hours, hygiene and safety at work and legally recognized contractual relations of employment.

TH Clothes have always assumed a commitment to quality and innovative design combined with the best price. The proof of that is getting the OEKO TEX Standard 100 certificate which aims to the excellence in the use of controlled substances free of health hazards, as well as non-use of substances prohibited by law. Obtaining this certificate is a worldwide synonym for responsible textile manufacturing and a guarantee for the industry, trade and consumers.

T-shirts are still the preferred garment for most people. They have a flawless style and are always fashion. Furthermore, they are comfortable and practical. Also in the promotional market the t-shirt is, these days, the most used vehicle by brands to create visibility. About 76% of custom promotional textiles are t-shirts. Increasingly, custom t-shirts are stylish and everyone wants to show them.

Sweatshirts have been a part of our daily lives for decades. They are the perfect piece of clothing for different environments and purposes. Their heating capacity, comfort and versatility are perfect features to make them an important part of many uniforms. On the other hand, these same features also make them desirable for less formal and more relaxed environments. For a very cool style, just wear it with jeans or shorts. Many designers often have new versions of sweatshirts in their autumn/winter collections, making them a musthave of the season. The hooded version dates back to the style introduced in medieval Europe by the monks in their work abroad. In New York, workers wore them in lower temperature environments. The success of the hood was confirmed later in 1970 with the explosion of Hip-Hop and urban culture. Today, its success is reflected by the widespread use in many different environments and sports, from festivals to extreme sports.
